Skipper

The Captain Penguin

Learn about the history of Captain Skipper

Due to pollution and global warming, the Antarctic glaciers started to melt, leaving unsafe ground where penguins and other animals used to live.

Skipper was always very thoughtful, searching for alternatives to be able to leave Antarctica safely. He thought a lot, but couldn't think of any solution.

Sad and discouraged, when he believed there were no more alternatives, he spotted something shining in the water. Curious, he decided to investigate.

Skipper couldn't believe: the biggest submarine of all time. He realized that the submarine could be his way in to the vast bottom of the sea that had always been the trip of his dreams.

He decided to climb aboard and he realized that the submarine was abandoned and with some damage. He decided to work on it and started to build what would be his new "home". He named his new home "The Dreamarine", that become the most fun place ever. He traveled and visited many different places until he arrived in Cascais. It was in Boca do Inferno that he found a secret passage to this hotel.

Welcome to the Dreamarine!
